Who is it for?

- Anyone living alone
- Anyone at risk of a fall
- Someone whose family want to be a button press away
- Anyone who might need help at the press of a button
- Someone who might lose their way when out and about
- Anyone interested in their daily activity and sleep patterns
- Anyone travelling alone

Current features:

Push button emergency alarm

At the touch of a button, buddi will alert the 24/7 emergency monitoring centre. The UK based team will immediately be in contact through the buddi. If the wearer cannot be reached, the monitoring team will endeavour to alert other registered emergency contacts

Automatic fall alert

The fall alert works fully automatically, so even if the wearer is incapacitated as a result of a fall the system still works without having to be activated by hand. A sensor called an accelerometer inside the wristband measures the changes in movement that result from a fall. A fall detection raises the alert with our 24/7 Emergency Monitoring Centre who then attempt to make contact with the wearer. If unsuccessful they then endeavour to alert the other registered emergency contacts. The wristband will vibrate and flash blue when alerting. An alert can be cancelled by pressing the buttons.

Location finder

Through using the latest satellite navigation (GPS) technology, buddi can accurately locate the wearer - any time, any place, anywhere. So the wearer is not confined to their home or a small radius surrounding it.

24/7 emergency monitoring

As well as utilising the very latest technology, at Buddi we also recognise the crucial role people play in an emergency. We operate a fully staffed Emergency Monitoring Centre in the UK where trained operators are on hand 24/7, 365 days of the year, to react to emergency alerts and inform registered contacts of emergencies so that they can provide assistance.

Safe places

Buddi can be set to alert emergency contacts if the wearer has gone somewhere they shouldn't. This is done by setting up safe and unsafe zones in your personal settings. This is quick and easy to set up and can be changed at any time.

Activity and sleep monitoring

Buddi enables the wearer to view their activity throughout the day and night (requires the wristband to be worn at all times). The graphs help to identify sleep patterns and monitor restless sleep and night time activity. High and low levels of activity during the day, or during the week, are easy to see. Personal activity goals can be set and notifications received when they are achieved.
